

From: Robert Lewis
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 11/17/01 1:03am
Subject: proposed remedy not enough

Microsoft has thumbed its nose at the Department of Justice the entire trial. Even the trial has not curtailed their abusive practices, 2 weeks ago their new msn network forced web surfers to use Microsofts browser to view their site! Their windows software is overpriced, filled with security flaws and the worst part it is, many have no other option but to use it. I'd be interested in seeing the world where innovation ruled, and the progress that would be made without monopolies.

-robert lewis